

Regional Information Sharing Systems (RISS) Program

RISSafe Officer Safety Website Video

Transcript

April 2013

In addition to RISSafe, RISS deployed an officer safety website that could be accessed through the RISSNET Portal. The RISS Officer Safety Website is dedicated to providing law enforcement and criminal justice users with timely officer safety information and a secure means to exchange and share officer safety-related information among agencies. The website has been designed to serve as a secure “one-stop shop” for law enforcement to access all types of officer safety-related information.

The RISS Officer Safety Website provides information on Armed and Dangerous Subjects as well as Awareness Information regarding officer safety, narcotics, gangs, domestic terrorism, militias, border safety, and extremist groups or organizations that pose an officer safety threat. The website also contains information on concealment methods, provides a training calendar, and houses a video library.

Officers may contribute officer safety-related information to the website and provide feedback with comments and suggestions on how RISS can continue to enhance the website. Users are encouraged to visit the website frequently. Information is constantly updated and new information is added to the site on a regular basis.

Together, RISSafe and the RISS Officer Safety Website provide law enforcement with a comprehensive officer safety program. Through these resources, RISS helps educate and safeguard our law enforcement officers and assists in maintaining the integrity of investigations and law enforcement efforts.

BJA and RISS are proud to bring you these programs. For more information about the RISS Program, contact your in-region RISS Center or visit www.riss.net. Here, you will learn more about how your agency can benefit from the services offered by RISS and how RISSafe and the RISS Officer Safety Website can help enhance the safety of law enforcement officers across the country.